

Sara Beraha And Her Son

This is a picture of my mother-in-law's sister Sara Beraha and her son Buko. They left for Palestine before the foundation of the Jewish state. Her husband died very young. The photo was taken in Sofia in 1931 after Buko had graduated from the technical school on Stamboliiski Blvd in the 1930s. Buko worked as a driver for a big juice company called Azis.
