

Andreja's Sister With Her Husband

My sister Kiti with her husband Gyuri Szego.

My sister was born when I was already 13 years old. The war began, we lost our father and I was her father in his place. At the age of 18 she went to Italy and there she married. In general she was with my mother and aunt. Both, my sister and her husband were refugees. He was a lawyer before the war and public prosecutor at the supreme court after the war. My sister is a professor of Russian, English and Italian languages at Medical, Veterinary and Pharmaceutical Faculty. They have two sons.
