

Fidlauer Zsuzsa

They cremated this little girl, too. This was the grandchild of my wife's uncle, Jeno Weisz. They took the whole family from Ujpest, the mother, Margit Weisz with her three children and her grandfather, Jeno Weisz, too. Earlier, they gathered them together in the Ujpest brick factory, and deported them from there to Auschwitz. None of them came home. Margit's husband Fidlauer, I don't remember his christian name, never came back from the Russian front.
