

Simon Meer

In this photo I am the second from the left in the front row.

I also was invited to the official tribune of the rally on 1st of may in 1953.

The tribute was finding place at the town square where the city settled down. There were no Jews among them.