

The Wedding Of The Daughter Of Anna Danon's Maternal Uncle Bohor And Regina Aladjem's

This is the wedding photo of Juli, the daughter of Uncle Bohor and Regina Aladjem, who were the aristocrats of the family. The photo was taken in 1935 in Sofia. I remember their wedding, the marvelous bouquet - it can be seen in the picture - and how we went round the Alexander Nevski Cathedral in Sofia in carriages. It was an opulent wedding. Unfortunately Izidor, the guy she married, turned out to be somewhat of a loser. She therefore had a much worse life with him than with her parents. I know that towards the end of his life he sold seeds on a tray in front of a cinema in Israel.