

Anna Danon With Her Sister Klara Levi

Here I am with my sister Klara and my brother-in-law in Krainitsi village in 1954. Klara is first from right, sitting, and he is standing. I am on the left of the priest. He was known as a womanizer. My sister had heard of his ?glory? and she insisted on taking a picture with him. First from left is Metodi, doctor's assistant in Krainitsi village. [After finishing university] I worked in Krainitsi village. I wasn't married at that time. Klara and her husband were on a visit to Bulgaria in 1954. I took them to this village so that they could see where I had worked. I am sitting next to the priest.