

Shimon Danon At A Prosecutors' Conference In The Balkan Mountain

This is a photo taken at a conference of all the prosecutors in the country, which took place in the Balkan Mountain, at Vola Peak in 1980. I gave the main report at the conference. This is almost the whole staff, with the exception of the chief state prosecutor. Almost all the prosecutors attended the conference. I reached the highest levels of power. I was deputy prosecutor-in-chief of the Republic [in communist times]. It means that I was responsible for a whole department in the chief prosecutor's office. There isn't a town in Bulgaria that I haven't visited. There isn't a prosecutor in Bulgaria who wouldn't know me. I have appeared dozens of times on TV and radio with my full Jewish name - Shimon Eshua Danon. In my adult life I have kept my Jewish identity by regularly observing certain Jewish traditions, like Pesach, for example. As I am a member of the Jewish community in Sofia, I often visit lectures and various events that are organized by it. And, throughout the years, I have maintained regular contact with my mostly Jewish friends.
