

Corpse Of Srul Zylbersztajn, Friend Of Nachman Elencwajg

This is a horrible photo from the funeral of my friend Srul Zylbersztajn, taken in 1946. He was one of the first among the Jews of Miedzyrzec who returned to the town after the Holocaust, and started to make some business traveling back and forth between Belarus and Poland. Once he was attacked in the train by a gang - I have no idea whether those bandits were from Poland or Belarus. They took him out of train, tortured, and killed him, cutting off his head. It was hard for our people to put the parts of his body together. There's nothing more I can tell you about it, this photo speaks for itself.
