

Graduation Form In Kirghizia School.

My graduating class from the Kirghizia School. You'll find me, Larissa Khusid, in the top row, the 4th on the left (wearing a white beret). This photo was taken in Frunze in 1948. I studied at the governmental school #3 in Frunze. I still have the picture of our class at our prom party in 1943. After school I enrolled in the English department of the Pedagogical Institute. Simultaneously, I studied the history of music, music literature, harmony and solfeggio, and also took piano lessons. My teachers were professors at the Moscow Conservatory: Vladimir Vlasov, Vladimir Ferre and Michail Arkadievich Rauchverger. They taught me for free. My only payment to them was my love and admiration for them that never faded.
