

The Wall Of Zuzana Minacova's Memories

In 1996, at the age of 65, I decided to renew my old family album. In the chaos of World War II, I had lost most of my family photographs, and so I came upon the idea of reconstructing the album with the help of my friends and relatives, who became my models. Thus the publication 'Rekonstrukce rodinného alba' [The Reconstruction of a Family Album] came about. Most of my relatives died in concentration camps during the war, not leaving behind even one photograph or memento; they were perpetuated only in my memories, and so it occurred to me to bring them to life through photography. Thanks to the art of photography, to which I've devoted myself my whole life, one can stop time for a while and conjure up something that has faded over time. My family helped me: my son Matej played my father, Dezider Silberstein, and Matej's wife Karin played my mother, Pavlina Silbersteinová. My friends, actors and directors, posed as my uncles, aunts and cousins. This is a picture of one of my photographs, which shows a wall and the writing: 'THIS IS THE WALL OF MY CHILDHOOD, IN WHICH MY MEMORIES REMAIN.'
