

Renee And Solon Molho

This is a picture of me and my husband Solon Molho. It is a much more recent picture of us, taken approximately in 1994. It must have been in some kind of celebration and I don't know what they show us but we both seem to be very surprised. I have many wishes, but all of them now depend on the wishes of others, to assist me with transports, etc. As long as my husband was alive they would all come to our place during the celebrations and we would sit at the table, eat, play cards, sing, laugh and everything was fine. Today things are different. My daughter Nina is trying to gather us, all together, at her place but it is not the old atmosphere. That is normal when the head of the family is missing. Anyhow, thanks to Nina we all get together.
