

Postcard From Gabor Paneth's Grandfather Adolf Paneth To His Son Lajos Paneth

This is a card that my grandfather sent to my father in Budapest. As I see from the stamp it was sent in 1911. I don't quite understand why it's written in this funny mixed language. As far as I heard they spoke Hungarian at home. (Editor's Note: The language of the card is a mixture of Hungarian and probably Jüdisch-Deutsch. There are a few lines in Hungarian at the bottom from Gabor's aunt Jolan, a deaf and mute, who lived at home with her parents.)
