

Ilona Seifert On Holiday In Matrafured

This is me on horseback in a photo taken at Matrafured in the 1940s.

I was on vacation with a girl friend of mine in Matrafured, a popular mountain holiday resort. There we met a man in the military who asked if I wanted to ride the horse. "I would love it" I said, "but you'll have to help me get on it. Is it tame?" "Of course" he answered. "And what's his name?" I asked. "He is called Muki" he answered. I rode Muki for a little while. Being a well-trained horse, Muki walked slowly, while his master walked along next to him.
