

The Goldmann Family In Israel's Desert

In this photo, you can see my husband and me with our sister-in-law from Holland in Israel's desert.

Whenever they would visit us, we drove all across Israel to show them the country.

My sister-in-law, Jetti, was very pretty - her mother was Dutch and her father from Indonesia.

My husband and I often visited them in Holland; we were in Amsterdam for the first time in 1958.

That was also the first time we left Israel. My brother died on February 9, 1974. His wife and kids still live in Holland.
