

Imre Kinszki With Family

My father with his family on the beach. As you can see, everybody is in swimming suits and he didn't want to insult anybody and he wanted to participate in the programme but you can see it on this photo too that he kept his clothes on and he is standing a little apart from the group. He kept apart not because he was conceited but this came from the depth of his soul.