

Vera Amar

My mother wasn't Jewish, but I became an Orthodox Jew. I converted to Judaism in Israel. I keep kosher, I observe Shabbat and all the holidays and still learn a lot. I am happy about this, and I have peace of mind. I have balance. I go to synagogue on Friday night and Saturday and this is enough for me. I feel psychologically healthy and good.