

Suzana Petrovic In The Jewish Community

After retiring I wrote a book "The Story of Kombucha" about a traditional drink. The book created a great interest and a wide audience. I wrote the book because for ten years I researched this traditional drink which comes from the Far East and helps prevent a large number of diseases. That problem is spreading today around the world, a book exists how to use the drink in developed and western and eastern countries and that book is my contribution in the sense that people can use this as a prevention and live happy and long lives.
