

Solomon Family

This is a picture of my father's sister Ester Solomonova, nee W. and her family. The photo must have been taken somewhere in the USA, but I don't know where exactly or when.

An interesting story is connected with this photo. The sister of my father was called Ester W.. She was born in about 1900. She was something like a hippie. When she was 16 she ran away from home and immigrated to America. I know that my grandparents were very unhappy, she did not write and they did not know anything about her. She married a lawyer called Solomon in Cleveland. The people on this photo must be her children.
